

BASICS Scotland

British Association for Immediate Care, Scotland

Adult Tele-education

Starts Wednesday 31st August 2022

Course cost: £150 for non-members / £135 for BASICS Scotland members

This is an online course aimed at emergency medicine professionals and will consist of 10 topic areas and 3 live case study discussions in adult emergency care over a 14 week period. A new lesson is released every week and each weekly lesson will contain a pre-recorded presentation by our specialty doctor in emergency medicine Karyn Webster. Everyone is encouraged to attend the live case studies discussion sessions as it will be your opportunity to interact with Karyn, ask questions, and submit your own case studies for discussion in relation to topics from the previous lessons. Lessons will be released weekly through the BASICS Scotland E-learning site and participants will be notified through email when new content is available to view. Live sessions will be delivered through internet based video conferences and instructions for getting this set up will be provided.

If you are interested in applying for this course please go to basics-scotland.org.uk/courses/our-courses/tele-education and complete an online application form.

The closing date for registration is Sunday 28th August 2022
